

Louisville Democrat.

PRINTED AND PUBLISHED BY
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.,
EAST SIDE THIRD STREET,
BETWEEN MARKET AND JEFFERSON.

For State Treasurer,
JAMES H. GARRARD,
OF BOYLE COUNTY

THURSDAY.....APRIL 2, 1857.

Ah! H!

The purity of the elective franchise! Vastly important, that same purity! The elections in New Orleans have been just such slams as we have seen elsewhere, only more so. The city under mob rule; the polls blocked up by armed ruffians. Three thousand registered voters driven from the polls. The details were perfectly appalling. The reign of terror was complete; and the authorities were either powerless or parties crimatis in the transactions. Many arrested or punished for all these outrages. Here was a call for the action of the Legislature; for there was no indication that the city would redeem herself. She had suffered the Constitution and laws of Louisiana to be trampled under foot; and the lawlessness did not cease with election day. Ruffians, bent on revenge and plunder, infested the city. Life was unsafe, and protection to person and property insecure. Here was that great panacea, a registry law, in operation; but the registered voters were driven from the polls, and the who's supervision being under one party, fraudulent votes could, and would be cast with impunity.

Well, the Legislature of Louisiana took the matter in hand; they resolved to redeem the city from bloody anarchy, and restore the right of suffrage to those disfurnished by lawless violence. The act is an extraordinary one, it suits an extraordinary case, to suppress insurrection, revolution in the hands of the very offscourings of creation. The State determined not to have any more slams called elections in New Orleans; that the sense of the qualified voters should be taken hereafter, in spite of armed bullies. We submit to good citizen if such scenes as have occurred in Baltimore, New Orleans, and Louisville on election day, ought to be tolerated by their respective States. Have not the authorities of these cities demonstrated their inability to keep the peace? If no lawlessness and disorder trample the legal right of suffrage under foot, an asailed men into office with clubs, pistols, and brass-knuckles, in spite of legal voters, who are as dazed and dazed from the polls by such means Louisiana has made the attempt. She has no provision to keep the peace, no too stringent to be effective. Peace shall be kept, says the Legislature of the State. Guards of armed ruffians shall not control elections in our principality. The law shall be supreme. No right of any voter is to be interfered with. His right to be protected by the whole power of the State. No honest man will object to such a law. Let the peace be kept, and the law will reach no one; it falls on the ruffian and the criminal.

The organ here is greatly exercised. He is frothing with rage. He exhorts his party to open resistance to the law. Of course the armymen of party will resist, if they dare; be to read a party organ openly threatening civil war and treason is refreshing. There will be resistance, mark that. The treacherous advice of the editor will not be taken. Good men in New Orleans see the object of the law; and it is their object. The law suits them. They will not encounter its penalties. They know and despise the constitution of New Orleans. They know that their elections have been slams, and that they have been occasions of bloodshed and riot, in which law and order have been trampled under foot, and consequently they will not resist. The ruffians will find it easier to paint themselves like Indians, pluck secret organizations, reveal their operations at the polls, knock down, beat and kill unarmed and unprotected voters, than to resist the armed power of the State; and perhaps hang up under martial law to a lamp-post.

If the Governor of Louisiana does his duty, we have no doubt he will—will have power at the elections in New Orleans, or, have, up every ruffian there. An organized and arming of brass-knuckles at the polls to drive away legal voters at their discretion, ought to be hung, and there are better men in the penitentiary than any who connive at such conduct. The organ asserts that the Legislature gave the office of Sheriff to a man, when his opponent had the certificate; and this was a great outrage; when in, one pretends that his opponent had a majority of the votes. It was admitted that he had not; but the ballot-boxes were destroyed, and the party that destroyed them had the impudence to take advantage of it; know the fraud. Where is there an honest man under the sun who will not say the Legislature did right? Prominent men of the self-styled American party encircled in the justice of the law will be ennobled.

But the point to which we direct attention, is the outcry about party despotism, is the exertion in the organ here to resistance of the law; an exhortation to treason. If his party can't hold New Orleans by terror, by clubs and brass-knuckles, then they are to resist the power of the State; not by legal means, not by force. They are to be to the last man. The advice is as atrocious as it is impotent. It takes men to make revolution, not lawless ruffians, nor their sympathizers. The law will be enforced.

At the outcry about party despotism is so much fated gas. Peace is to be kept at election, that is all. Every man of any party is to be protected in his own right to vote, but he is not to interfere with any one else's right. If any man would do her dog, she would take Baltimore in hand, and teach her Rip-Raps and Pug-Uglies that they are not governors of Maryland; that law is supreme; that their ruffians shall not block up the polls and judge while and who shall not vote. We have had such elections in Louisville; but we trust the disease has not become chronic, as it is in Baltimore and New Orleans. If it should become so, Louisville will need the attention of the State authorities. We are not bound to submit to lawlessness when there is a legal remedy to be applied.

We see now what the organ means by fraud in elections, and the outcry for preventives. Those never were such frauds perpetrated as occurred here, in New Orleans, and Baltimore. The outrages upon the right of suffrage cannot be denied. The world knows them, and a denial is little better on the score of morals than the denials themselves; but as soon as an effort is proposed to be to resisted—resisted at all hazards and to the last extremity. We don't want a remedy that will prevent lawless ruffians from creating a reign of terror, and driving legal voters from the polls. Oh! no remedy for that is wanted; all we want is some scheme that will be used to block up the way to the ballot-box; and we want the means in our own hands, that we may have an opportunity to higgle, and shindle, and diminish, if possible, the votes of our opponents. That is what is wanted.

Here, however, are the most impudent outrages on the right of suffrage ever perpetrated, and they have been repeated until nothing less can be expected; but any effectual remedy for such deeds must not be applied. Such is the consistency and honesty. And by way of showing an abhorrence of frauds in elections, open treason is preached against the only effectual remedy invented to prevent them.

17 A paragraph in yesterday's Courier, in reference to the approaching city election, seems to us to require some notice, by way of explanation. We think its injurious reflections on the Democratic party, in connection with this matter, are rather unjust, when the attendant circumstances are properly understood. This, we think, our neighbor of the Courier cannot but admit, upon mature consideration.

The Courier says:

With a decided majority in this city against Know-Nothingism, and with all the more decent members of that organization now bound to support it, Pitcher and his crew would have been dismalied, if the Democratic party had not been in a position to offer a sufficient number of votes to sustain the party.

All this is said as to the disgust expressed by a large portion of our citizens towards the Know-Nothingism, is true. It is also true that a great number of leading business men and property owners throughout the country and in this city have disposed of their nominal promptness, have written to their agent, at this place, who sold the prize, to know when and where the holder will payment be made. Now is the time for people who want money to take hold of an opportunity, for the prizes having taken this direction, will we have no doubt, be given to every, and then to all, here, as well as Sean & Co., who prepared for all orders, either by mail or in person, for Tobacco in the insignificant schemes which are offered, and which will be drawn every Sunday.

Prizes, by their known promptness in paying

Prizes, by their known responsibility, and last, but least, by their courteous, genuinely bearing, have placed themselves high in the confidence and esteem of all throughout the country; and when persons invest in their Lotteries, they feel confident of having all they ask—

We believe the name of the fortunate holder of $12,500 is no secret, but do not feel authorized to publish it in our columns.

Columbus (Miss.) Democrat.

"German Society."

Messrs. Editors: The other day I chanced to glance at an article in the Evening Bulletin of this city, from the European correspondence of an eastern paper. His subject is "German Society," and the good fellow, no doubt a true son of "Sam," wants to dispel from the minds of his inexperienced fellow-citizens the wrong prejudiced views that have been inculcated in regard to "German Society" by some lying travelers. In the first place, he complains most piteously that this native American stomach, parched and burnt with hot buckwheat cakes and steaming biscuits, and rendered flabby by savory tonics, could not support the healthful and nourishing "sauerkraut." He is given enough to think that the tobacco-bag, placed on the table after supper in order to supply the smokers, is a fish for the knife and fork (and very naturally so); for he comes from a country where they eat tobacco all day, and where people are always running the risk of being inured in a flood of tobacco juice.

He seems to have been accustomed in "Yankee land" to a simple lounge, and tobacco juice, and to have been a feather-flicker instead of a California blanket to protect themselves against the cold. He did not have the cash to go to a decent hotel, and was consequently in command of unpleasant fumées. In short, being a dimmed American stomach, he thinks that all who are not he, are dunces. After this he begins to moralize on "schoene soles," showing conclusively that he cannot bust himself out of that cage of skin, and that the most honest and most honest of shoe-stores, together with other articles of merchandise, are to be had in the various retail outlets.

The Hall of Zeyermann, or East Indian Bazaar, is the only sure cure for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Griping Pain in the Bowels, and Children's Complaints. Prepared by H. S. Humphrey, originally. Those who have once used this valuable remedy will again be without it, whether they are unable to get it again, or whether their friends and acquaintances buy it, but they have their words good, and their hands ready.

For the an unfeasted-in winter, Cholera, is the full unfeasted, and although, how the really ravages, he gives all a warning, yet when his fangs have been leveled, he gives not a warning. A word to the wise is sufficient, and the advice is to be followed.

The American Sunday-School and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1857.

INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED

that this Department from Dr. D. S. ANDERSON, of TRIVILLE, KY., Louisville, Kentucky.

E. M. DRAKE & CO.,

(late of Louisville).

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles, together with other articles of merchandise.

TERMS: cash.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1857.

INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED

that this Department from Dr. D. S. ANDERSON, of TRIVILLE, KY., Louisville, Kentucky.

E. M. DRAKE & CO.,

(late of Louisville).

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles, together with other articles of merchandise.

TERMS: cash.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1857.

INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED

that this Department from Dr. D. S. ANDERSON, of TRIVILLE, KY., Louisville, Kentucky.

E. M. DRAKE & CO.,

(late of Louisville).

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles, together with other articles of merchandise.

TERMS: cash.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE, 1

WASHINGTON, March 24, 1857.

INFORMATION HAS BEEN RECEIVED

that this Department from Dr. D. S. ANDERSON, of TRIVILLE, KY., Louisville, Kentucky.

E. M. DRAKE & CO.,

(late of Louisville).

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles, together with other articles of merchandise.

TERMS: cash.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles, together with other articles of merchandise.

TERMS: cash.

THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL and its Adjuncts.

JUST PUBLISHED—THE AMERICAN SUNDAY-SCHOOL AND ITS ADJUNCTS, by JAMES W. ALEXANDER, D. O. Our volume contains

100 pages.

FORWARDING AND COMMISSION

Merchants, No. 25 East Front street, Cincinnati, Ohio, and 100 Main street, Boston, Mass., 100 Broad

BRITISH, SHOES, &c.

AT 100 Broad p. m., we will offer over 100 cases of

British, American, and various styles,

Louisville Democrat.

THURSDAY APRIL 2, 1857.

APRIL FOOLING THE CONDUCTORS—MAN ON THE TRACK.—We heard of a seasonable joke yesterday, which, while it doubtless afford great sport for the boys, pays high compliment to the officers and employees of the Louisville and Frankfort Railroad. Some practical joker ingeniously prepared a "paddy," which very closely resembled a man, and placed it upon the track of the road near McCown's Academy just beyond Hobb's Depot, at an early hour yesterday morning. The head of the boy lay upon one of the rails, and the object had the appearance of a man in profound sleep. Capt. Richardson's train had gotten under way headway, after leaving the "depot," when his vigilant engineer discovered the unconscious man lying upon the track, and it was but the work of a moment to reverse the engines and stop the train. But for Captain Richardson's known morality, he must have "caused" a little, when he approached the object of his solicitude and found his attention had been lost upon a staffed representation of the genie bono. Throwing the obstruction from the track, he made good the time which he had lost, consulting himself whether he could summon over the fate which had made him an "April fool." Capt. R. had but lost sight of the scene of the adventure when the "paddy" was replaced, it time for the accommodation train in charge of Capt. Rifferty. He was as unfortunate a Capt. Richardson, and was victimized in the same way. Next came the lumbering freight train, whose officers were startled with the presence of the man on the track, barely saving his life by a brisk application of the breaks. And thus the big bear continued to crawl to every passing train, until Capt. Pansier, of the down-train from Lexington, as duly duped as his predecessors, had up the signal objects and gave him free passage to this city in his baggage car. It is a question now for Superintendent Gilt to decide whether Capt. P. is considerate of a violation of the rules of the company, against carrying "dead-heads," but we presume he will be indulged in this particular instance, as it is said to be the first course of the kind he has ever exercised. The whole affair is highly creditable to the officers of the company, as it exhibits their solicitude for the safety of human life, even though such solicitude should subject them to the nomination of being denominated "fools for once in their lives."

VALUE OF A CHARACTER—TROUBLE AMONG THE NEWSPAPER CARRIERS.—We never knew why the proverb that "doctors disagree" was made to apply more especially to the medical than to other professions; for it is known that the individual members of all the professions learned and unlearned, are ever at loggerheads. We quote, however, that in no other walk of life is this brotherly breach wider than in the newspaper-carrying profession. New boys have no affords for each other, and are at ease to entangling alliances as your strictest non-intercourse. The sedate and dignified career of the Democrt would score public meeting with a dirty-faced pedlar of the Journal, and confuses his familiarity with his respect to a tele-a-tote now and then over a cup of slop coffee, at Felker's, under cover of midnight, while he would dignify the career of the Courier upon rare occasions by a recognition in some unfeigned quondam in the suburbs of the city. It is not our business, however, to discuss the relations or interests of newsmen a present, but a record of a recent decision, recently made in this city, which is of some importance to the profession, and which, while it puts at rest a personal controversy, may be of interest to the fraternity throughout the world. In our reading and "practices" we do not remember the gotten of a similar case in "the books," and we acknowledge our indebtedness to "Squid" Council's docket for the precedent. Our litigants, who are carriers of two of the morning, did not concurred in a suburban bar house and entered into a familiar conversation over a cup of beer, which were procured upon the "Cincinnati plan"—such carrier paying for his beer. A character jealousy was excited into a quarrel in the leverance, when carrier No. 1 charged carrier No. 2 with regularly purloining two papers from the doors of his patrons somewhere in Bucyrus. The circumstances were against No. 2; for it was known that he did supply two newsmen with the rival newspaper. N. 2, however, has a character above suspicion, and is as tenacious of his reputation as Caesar of his wife's. No. 2 incontinently appealed before Equity Court, and made complaint of the damage which had been done to his reputation, estimating his injuries at fifty dollars. The suit came up on Monday last when the testimony and pleadings were heard to the satisfaction of the magistrate, who awarded damages to the damaged carrier in the sum of one cent, subjecting the slanderer to the costs of suit. If a magistrate estimates the character of a man who sells a paper, the subscription price of which is twelve and a half cents per week, at one cent and costs, how would he rate the reputation of an individual who peddles a penny paper?

INDIANA PENITENTIARY.—The Board of Directors appointed by Gov. Willard under the laws of last session of the Legislature of that State, assembled at the State Prison, at Jeffersonville, on yesterday, and, in company with the Governor, examined the wards, cell-houses, work-shops, hospital, and other departments of that institution.

The members of the board were sworn into office by Judge Levering, and held their first meeting at the Warden's room. This board regulates the discipline, and of their labor, and will list portions of the convicts' labor in manufacturing and mechanical work to the highest bidder, under the immediate discipline and control, however, of the officers of the prison. The convicts are entitled to a portion of the proceeds of their labor, to be forwarded to their families or deposited in the institution until their discharge. The provisions of the law guard sedulous care against abuses by the officers upon the discipline or funds of the institution, and also for the humane protection of the convicts.

The Board of Directors appoint the Warden, Clerk, Moral Instructor, Physician, and Deputy Warden of the Penitentiary, and the appointment of the minor officers, turnkeys and guards, are made by the Warden, subject to the approval of the board.

The number of convicts in this penitentiary is now 237. Both convicts and officers are subjected to considerable inconvenience from the deficiency of cell-rooms for the convicts at night. A new cell-house is now in process of construction, which, when completed, will enable this penitentiary to furnish separate cells for 320 male convicts.

John Swinney, the murderer of Casper Fenn, (the details of the affair we gave yesterday morning), was brought before the Police Court yesterday, when his examination was pointed for Saturday next.

Personal.

Hon. Thos. J. Henley, the newly-appointed Superintendent of Indian Affairs in California is at present on a visit to the old home of Clark County, Ind., preparatory to his departure for his adopted home in California.

Gov. Willard, of Indiana, made an official visit to the State Penitentiary, at Jeffersonville, yesterday.

Moses Garrett and Harris, two young gentlemen of ability, succeeded Mr. William, editor and publisher of the Salem (Ind.) Democrat. We wish them much success.

Mo. T. Tucker, who received the unanimous recommendation of the Democracy of Clarke county as their choice for Congress declines the candidacy for the nomination before the District Convention. Mr. Tucker would be highly acceptable to the party throughout the District.

D. B. Mellish, Esq., the distinguished abolitionist, is in this city at present. We learn that he has acceded to the expressed wish of a large circle of admirers in New Albany and will give one of his variety entertainment at Woodland Hall, in that city, to-morrow (Friday evening). Our Christian Association would well to secure his services for at least on entertainment in this city.

Col. Jack Allen, of Shelby, the patriotic, arrived in this city yesterday, and will remain a few days. He appears to have quite recovered from his late painful illness.

Captain Frank Ray, a conductor on the O & M. Railroad, took the first train through tunnel, thirty miles west of Seymour, Tuesday. He also had charge of the first train through tunnel, and is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

MERCHANT TAILORS.—Messrs. H. & J. Denen, No. 429 Main street, three doors below fifth street, are now receiving an admirable assortment of spring and summer goods, which are prepared to render into clothing after most approved style of the art, and short and rigid in reference to those who may be turned delinquent for failing to comply with an assessment law. It is the duty of the Assessor to make one personal demand to the property-holder for a list of his taxables; if the property-holder disregards the demand, it is the duty of the Assessor to make a written application for the same; if the property-owner persists in a refusal thereafter, then the Assessor may return him as delinquent after the 1st of May—which will subject the delinquent to a fine of $100. It would be well for such persons as are subject to taxation to heed these regulations.

CHURCH STREET HOSPITAL.—We are indebted to our friend, Dr. W. A. Hume, Superintendent of the Louisville Marine Hospital in Caen street, for the following official report of the transactions in that institution for the month of March, just passed:

Visits—Morning in the Hospital, March 1st, Total.

Number discharged during the month Total.

Visiting April 1st Total.

These new resident graduates give general satisfaction.

GERMAN SOCIETY.—A most disgusting and odious article, copied from a letter in the Newark (N. J.) Advertiser, reflecting upon German society and manners, has been going round the papers, and was copied right in the Evening Bulletin of this city. We thought to reply to the fallacies therewith, but our correspondent, "H." in another column, overrules the foolish upstart who writes unctuousness. The sedate and dignified career of the Democrt would score public meeting with a dirty-faced pedlar of the Journal, and confuses his familiarity with his respect to a tele-a-tote now and then over a cup of slop coffee, at Felker's, under cover of midnight, while he would dignify the career of the Courier upon rare occasions by a recognition in some unfeigned quondam in the suburbs of the city. It is not our business, however, to discuss the relations or interests of newsmen a present, but a record of a recent decision, recently made in this city, which is of some importance to the profession, and which, while it puts at rest a personal controversy, may be of interest to the fraternity throughout the world. In our reading and "practices" we do not remember the gotten of a similar case in "the books," and we acknowledge our indebtedness to "Squid" Council's docket for the precedent. Our litigants, who are carriers of two of the morning, did not concurred in a suburban bar house and entered into a familiar conversation over a cup of beer, which were procured upon the "Cincinnati plan"—such carrier paying for his beer. A character jealousy was excited into a quarrel in the leverance, when carrier No. 1 charged carrier No. 2 with regularly purloining two papers from the doors of his patrons somewhere in Bucyrus. The circumstances were against No. 2; for it was known that he did supply two newsmen with the rival newspaper. N. 2, however, has a character above suspicion, and is as tenacious of his reputation as Caesar of his wife's. No. 2 incontinently appealed before Equity Court, and made complaint of the damage which had been done to his reputation, estimating his injuries at fifty dollars. The suit came up on Monday last when the testimony and pleadings were heard to the satisfaction of the magistrate, who awarded damages to the damaged carrier in the sum of one cent, subjecting the slanderer to the costs of suit. If a magistrate estimates the character of a man who sells a paper, the subscription price of which is twelve and a half cents per week, at one cent and costs, how would he rate the reputation of an individual who peddles a penny paper?

TAKING HIS OWN PRESCRIPTION.—Daniel McSwiney, who sells good liquor all the week in his prescriptions occasionally on the Sabbath, was before Police Court yesterday upon the charge. Dr. Vanderslice was the only witness against the accused, who stood in the dock. The Doctor having taken the liquor upon his own prescription, McSwiney was dismissed.

THE CITY WORK-HOUSE.—There are at present 52 convicts in the city work-house, confined for drunkenness, petty larceny, and various misdemeanors. The two sexes are pretty equally represented, there being twenty-nine male and twenty-three females. Mr. Hill's numerosity is very much attached to him, although they complain somewhat at times of the rig regulations enforced by the Governor.

Two females, Fitzpatrick, a mother and daughter, named, respectively, Mary and Maria (what a sad misapprehension of Christian names!), were before Police Court yesterday, for disorderly conduct, on Tuesday night near Fourteenth and Main streets. The daughter was sent to the work house, and her master was discharged.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Redford, consort of Rev. A. H. Redford, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, at Cave Hill Cemetery was attended by a large concourse of the friends of the family in this city yesterday. The deceased was a kind, amiable woman, a devout Christian, and much beloved by those who knew her.

The funeral of Casper Fenn, the young man who was murdered on Tuesday afternoon at the Warden's room, took place at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was attended by the Fire Department, the deceased having been a member of the Rescue Company.

A convict in the city work-house, name Johnson, who had been committed about a month ago to await trial for petty larceny, escaped from that institution yesterday morning, and had not been apprehended at the last account.

THE KNOW-NOTHING State Council of Kentucky will meet in this city to-day. We presume it to be a private kind of an affair, as there appears to be no unusual stir about the city.

The tenth and last lecture of the Young Men's Christian Association will be delivered at Mozart Hall, on Saturday evening, the 4th, by Prof. Reasor.

Thomas Keiley, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct on the wharf on Tuesday, was sent to the work-house a month by Judge Johnson yesterday.

The mail clerk in the New Albany Tribune office sends us a copy of the Weekly Tribune. The daily is though enough for our purpose.

William Bailey was subjected to a fine of $1 in Police Court yesterday for firing a pistol near the residence of Dr. Jacole.

An unfortunate fellow was found in the street yesterday, so drunk that he had to be taken to jail on a dray.

The river is falling at this point, with 4 feet 9 inches water in the pass on the Falls.

Another Steamboat Disaster.

The dispatch from New Orleans, in another column this morning, makes this sad announcement that there had been an explosion on the steamer Forest Rose, near Napoleon, and that several lives were lost. No particulars are given.

The lecture of Prof. Fowler last night, at Mozart Hall, gave universal delight to the audience. His lectures contain an abundance of practical and useful information. His large experience in his favorite science, (supposing my other in the United States, perhaps), entitles him to our utmost confidence and respect. He has made phrenology a favorite study for more than twenty years, and no one can attend his course, however much they may oppose the minuteness of his theory, without gathering much practical value in the every day experience of life.

His lecture will be continued from night to night, and we do our readers no greater kindness than to urge them one and all to go to and hear him.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is thought proper to await corroborating testimony as to Jones' identity. The examination was continued till Saturday, to which advice from Ohio.

John Jones, alias Wm. Nickerson, whose arrest we noticed yesterday, was in Police Court yesterday morning. He is charged will be murder of the Chief of Police in Columbus, Ohio, about a year since, having committed his crime when the officer was attempting arrest. The arrest of Jones was made in this city on Tuesday upon the affidavit of Frank Cocks who has been traveling with him some time. The informant is known to be an inmate of the Ohio penitentiary, and it is

